Short Info:

Modern ambient jazz that effortlessly manages the balance between experimental sounds, rock / blues and so much more in between. Recommended not only for guitarists!

Release Description:

Blind Spot creates music out of an attitude that questions everything. „We don't know anything, but as soon as we pick up our instruments, a small spark ignites. It is vulnerable at first and needs attention, otherwise it will fade away immediately and we will be left in the dark again. But if we pay attention to the spark, it starts to blaze and then we are ready“.

This examination requires dedication, but no taboos and therefore also explains in a broader sense how Blind Spot has created an album with "Frontmirror" that covers an enormous range despite the classic trio setting. Modern and in part randomly controlled effects experiments fit seamlessly into earthy rock and blues sounds.

Musically, Blind Spot revolve around clear, catchy themes on "Frontmirror". They modulate, modify, stumble, fall and lift each other up. This creates a lively interplay of electric guitar, double bass and drums. Due to the variety of sounds, the simple melodies are transformed into complex constructs and get more and more dimensions.

"Frontmirror" is also the second album after "Just a Glimpse" (JazzSick Records) by the German guitarist Philipp Wisser as a composer, producer and bandleader.

Press Quotes:

"The magic and mystique that Philipp Wisser cooks up in this wonderful casserole of musical possibilities is compelling. Bravo, Philipp!" Jon Damian (Berklee College of Music)

"With "Frontmirror" Philipp Wisser presents a fantastic new album. Philipp not only convinces as a great guitarist, but also as a composer and architect of atmospheric sound collages. He and his great trio have created a coherent album that offers joy and excitement not only for guitarists. Highly recommend."
Tobias Hoffmann (German guitarist)
